25th Esperanto Choral Singing Course

plus skiing, local visits, folk music, and tai chi

Saturday 24th February to Saturday 3rd March 2018

No previous knowledge of Esperanto necessary. We will be singing works covering a variety of styles and eras from around the world, some in their original language and some in translation.

The course includes five hours per day of singing practice. Other activities include skiing, trips out to the surrounding area, Esperanto conversation practice and lessons, or relaxing in congenial company, according to individual preferences.

Regular participants include players of traditional folk instruments, promising some lively evenings after formal practice is over.

You are also invited to join us for the optional morning practice of “Tai Chi for Singers” (with Jud GRETTON – associated Prof. of the UKTQF) to explore how this can help develop the quality of your voice.

Advance booking essential

Registration from 15h00 on Saturday 24th February.

Course starts Sunday 25th February at 0900.

Course finishes Saturday morning 3rd March.

Course fees: 60–90€, or 25€ per day (includes lunch). Discounts available for young people and additional family members. Accommodation at the Village des Vacances 301 € full board (other options available)
